HOT FIGHT BY THAW IS CERTAIN

Engages Three Lawyers and Mental Expert For Hearing

SENTIMENT FAVORS HIM

Arraignment May Be Delayed Until Thursday—The Attorneys Have Long Conferences.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Sherbrooke, Que., Aug. 20.—Application for a writ of habeas corpus requiring the presence of Harry K. Thaw in the Supreme court at Sherbrooke, was granted by Judge Glibensky in his chambers this afternoon. The writ is returnable at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Sherbrooke, Que., Aug. 20.—Harry K. Thaw, fugitive slayer of Stanford White, caught by a New Hampshire sheriff after his sensational escape from Matteawan, spent the night in the hospital ward in the jail of this little border town and this morning at the urgent telegraphic demands of his family retained new counsel to fight deportation to the United States.

George Lauder Carnegie, his brother-in-law, wired during the night that he was hurrying here with Thaw's sister, Margaret, and cautioned Thaw to delay all proceedings if possible pending his arrival. Meantime Charles D. White, recommended to the Thaw family as Sherbrooke's most astute lawyer, took charge of the case and at Thaw's arraignment before a commissioner this forenoon planned to ask for adjournment of the proceedings.

An army of old acquaintances, as it were, newspaper men who reported the Thaw murder trials in New York, or followed the recurring sanity proceedings collected about Thaw's prison cell today. One glance was enough. It was Harry Thaw. Thaw-like he had demanded special bedding on his cot, Thaw-like he talked of statements he proposed to issue, though for the time he declined to be interviewed. He said briefly that he had slept well.

The question of insanity was not embodied in the commitment which brings Thaw before the immigration authorities here. He is held merely as a fugitive.

Thaw himself was quick to see the chances for fighting deportation on such grounds, for at Matteawan he was charged with nothing, being held as a lunatic acquitted of the White murder. The immigration officials it was said, were aware of this loophole in the commitment, and were considering the advisability of changing the charge.

Since his arrival here, Thaw money has poured into Sherbrooke. An alienist has already been tentatively engaged. Thaw would welcome any test of his sanity.

Protracted conferences today between three Canadian lawyers retained to oppose Harry K. Thaw's deportation to the United States indicated that his preliminary arraignment in court would be postponed at least until tomorrow, possibly for a week.

Sentiment in Sherbrooke is distinctly in Thaw's favor. A great crowd greeted him at the station when he arrived from Coaticook county.

"Let him go! Set him free; he hasn't done anything to us! Give him a chance!"

There were by count eighteen women in the courtroom today. They were all well dressed, well mannered and quiet.

Anti-Saloon League Representatives Meet

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Buckeye Lake, O., Aug. 20.—District superintendents and representatives of the Ohio Anti-Saloon league from every section of the state today began a two days' conference here for the discussion of temperance legislation and business affecting the league.

Principals just before the conference were the small legislatures, constitutional amendment, initiated by the liberal interests, which was opposed, and the anti-shipment of liquor initiated bill which is being proposed for passage at a referendum vote by the drys.

MY WHAT AN HONOR.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, Aug. 20.—To Harry McKenzie Ridge, of London, Eng., has fallen the distinction of being the first inventor whose patent has gone on record in the United States patent office bearing the signature of the new commissioner, Thomas G. B. Smith. Mr. Ridge is safeguarding his interests in a "muffled roaring furnace."

School Board Will Aid Club Women In Buying Equipment For the Riverside Playground

In regular session Tuesday night the board of education voted favorably on a communication from a committee of the Federation of Women's clubs, agreeing to assist in equipping the Riverside playground. The only condition was that the federation provide equipment to the amount of least $500.

It was the first meeting to be held since President Edward Kibler's return from abroad, after an absence of several weeks. He presided.

Supt. Hawkins reported to the board his action in filling vacancies, for which he was given authority. His recommendations were adopted.

To succeed Prof. Neptune, High school physics instructor, who resigned to go to Lorain, O., the superintendent recommended W. G. Ginger of Springfield, O., at a salary of $1,100 a year, the same as that paid Professor Neptune.

Succeeding Miss Vance, who has resigned her position in the English department of the High school to go to Idaho, the superintendent recommended Miss Bertha Crilly, advanced from grade teaching, at $700 a year.

Owing to the illness of Miss Wotring, instructor in German, who recently underwent a surgical operation, the superintendent reported she would be unable to resume her work before January 1. To fill the vacancy until that time, Superintendent Hawkins recommended Miss Bertha Helling of Bellaire, at $80 per month. Miss Helling formerly taught in the Bellaire schools under Mr. Hawkins' direction.

To fill the vacancies caused by resignation of Miss Thurst and transfer of Miss Crilly, Miss Jennie Wolf and Miss Esther Banton were recommended at salaries of $190 and $380 respectively.

Gus Moser was elected janitor of the Keller building at $70 per month, and C. H. Robinson janitor of the Mahon school at $55 per month.

The Avery-Loeb Electrical company was awarded contracts for installing electric lights in the woodworking rooms of the High school manual training department. The bid was $34, with $37 additional for extra features of the work. The Newark Electrical company was the other bidder.

Prof. W. E. Painter, supervisor of manual training, brought to the attention of members some of the needs of his department and was authorized to proceed with the selection of necessary equipment.

The board granted the German-American Alliance right to make use of the High School Auditorium during the state convention here. The auditorium was let for use August 23 and 24.

A communication from the department of workshop and factory inspection, granted the board permission to make requested change in the arrangement of fire escapes at the Fourth street school. The escapes are to be placed parallel to the walls of the building on the north and south sides instead of on the east side. The Columbia Iron and Wire Works of Canton, successful bidder for the contract, has been notified of the change.

COMMISSION TO LOCATE NEW PEN IS NAMED TODAY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Columbus, Aug. 20.—Governor Cox at noon announced the appointment of the following commission which was created by legislative enactment to select a site and prepare plans for the building of a new state penitentiary: Chairman, Superintendent J. Leonard, superintendent of the Mansfield reformatory, Harris E. Cooley of Cleveland, a recognized authority on penal institutions; A. F. Shephard, member of the state board of administration and Senator A. W. Greenleaf of Cleveland Representative Samuel J. Black of Wyandot county, previously had been named secretary of the commission.

According to the recommendation of the special commission the new penitentiary should be erected on from 1,000 to 2,000 acres of ground some place in Central Ohio and not too near a large city, but yet with adequate railroad facilities.

There has been much talk of using the new criminal insane hospital at Lima as a penitentiary, but it is generally understood that the administration wants the new prison located elsewhere.

INDIANAPOLIS PHYSICIAN IS KILLED ON GLACIER

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Glacier Park, Mont., Aug. 20.—Dr. C. I. Fletcher of Indianapolis was instantly killed in Glacier Park yesterday, when sealing Blackfoot Glacier. He fell 600 feet.

Dr. Fletcher with his wife and members of the Prairie Club of Chicago entered the park August 12. His body had been recovered and was brought here today.

TO PREVENT PANICS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) New York, Aug. 20.—As the first step in the protection against panics in theaters which will later result on compulsory fire drills, Fire Commissioner Johnson has issued the following warning upon all theater programs.

"Fire notice. Look around now and then and choose the nearest exit. In case of fire walk out (don't run) of theater exit. Don't try to beat your neighbor to the street."

SECRETARY NOMINATED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, Aug. 20.—President Wilson today nominated Edward Bell of New York to be second secretary of the embassy at London.

DEMENTED COOK POURS HOT LARD OVER 3 WOMEN

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) New York, Aug. 20.—An Italian demented cook, rendered temporarily insane by the intense heat of the kitchen in which she was working yesterday, poured boiling fat over three women and a baby of the Staten Island household where she was employed, frightfully burning all four of them. The injured persons are little Irving Ludwig, 18 months, Mrs. Mary H. Oloch, niece of Mrs. Ludwig, Mrs. Jennie Llanish, a nurse and Mrs. Hugh Hanfler a laundress. The four were found on the kitchen floor, writhing in pain and were taken to a hospital where their condition was said to be serious.

PETITION HEARING IS OPENED

State Officials Unexpectedly Start Probe Scheduled for Thursday

FINNEGAN TESTIFIES

Told Old Soldiers at Dayton That the Petitions Were for an Increase in Pensions.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Columbus, O., Aug. 20.—Declaring that they wished to release him from jail at the earliest possible moment but that they wished his testimony, Governor Cox and Attorney General Hogan at 2 o'clock this afternoon opened the referendum hearings before Secretary of State Graves, by placing Thomas J. Finnegan of Cincinnati on the stand.

The hearings before Secretary Graves had been scheduled to begin tomorrow morning, and this afternoon's action was unexpected. Finnegan recently gave himself up to the governor. He walked into the governor's office ten days ago and declared that he had been circulating referendum petitions on the Green Act for the Ohio Equity Association of Cleveland.

He at that time told the governor that he had circulated the petitions at the Dayton Soldiers Home, and that he had induced the old veterans to sign the petition after representing to them that the petition was for an increase in the amount of pensions.

Local attorneys for the Equity association were notified this afternoon and attended the hasty opening of the hearing. Other representatives of the Equity association are expected to arrive from Cleveland and other Ohio cities tomorrow morning.

The only reason given by the governor and the attorney general for opening the case this afternoon was that Finnegan might be released from jail at once.

FALLS DOWN STEPS WITH LIGHTED LAMP

While descending the stairs Tuesday evening with an oil lamp in her hand, Mrs. George Sparks stumbled and fell, receiving serious burns when the lamp exploded.

Mrs. Sparks resides with her daughter in 259 Lawrence street and about 8 o'clock Tuesday evening she had occasion to go down stairs. The house was in darkness and she carried the lamp with her. In descending she stumbled and fell to the floor with the lamp which exploded and ignited her clothing. Neighbors saw the flames and hearing her cries rushed to her assistance. She was rolled in a comforter and the flames extinguished, but not before she was seriously burned.

Dr. J. R. McClure of East Main street was called and found that she was seriously burned about the waist line, the breast, arms and shoulders being seriously blistered.

Mrs. Sparks is about sixty years of age and had met with much misfortune during the past few months. Before coming to Newark she lost all her possessions during the flood at Zanesville.

The condition of the patient, however, this morning is said to be improved and she is resting easily, suffering no shock as the result of the accident.

STATE WILL NOT ABANDON THE CANALS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Cincinnati, O., Aug. 20.—The canals of Ohio will not be abandoned and the land sold. This much has been decided upon by the legislative committee of canal investigation which reached Cincinnati today. The thing to be determined now is whether to let the canals remain as they are, to be improved from time to time as occasion may require, or whether to recommend that general improvement of them be undertaken now. Improvement now would cost in the neighborhood of $50,000,000. The committee will not decide what to recommend until after it has finished its tour of investigation, which will end at Toledo. The members of the committee are Senators Weyand, Wise and Hoppe and Representatives Clark, Dittick and Smith. Canal Superintendent John Miller is with the committee.

SENATOR BOB PENROSE, SENATOR HENRY CAROT LODGE.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Demos in Washington are blaming Senators Lodge and Penrose for the delay in the passage of the Underwood tariff bill. A rough the senate cars say that Senator Lodge in particular is trying to bring about some excitement in connection with the Mexican situation so the tariff bill would be forgotten.

Of course the senators answer that they have taken no action of any kind which they have not thought for the good of the country.

STATE WILL NOT ABANDON THE CANALS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Budapest, Hungary, Aug. 20.—Count Stephan Tisza the Hungarian premier, fought a sword duel this morning with Marquis Pallavicini of the Austrian army. Both were slightly wounded. Then quarrel arose over the Marquis charges that the premier had tried to influence witnesses in a recent libel suit.

Today's duel was the third fought by Count Tisza in the present year. Marquis Pallavicini who is a lieutenant of the Ninth Hussars went to the United States in 1910 to act as best man at the wedding of Count Anton Suray of Hungary, to Miss Harriet Daly of New York.

Fire Loss For First Seven Months of 1913 Is Already Double That For Year 1912

The total fire loss to the city of Newark already total nearly $50,000, according to records kept by Fireman John Kerrigan. Fire alarms for the first seven and a half months number seventy-three. The majority of the fires have been small, with damages less than one hundred dollars. Eight of these fires have caused losses estimated between one hundred and five hundred dollars. Three approached the thousand dollar mark.

The four larger and more destructive fires of the year were: Freedom Oil Works, $2,500; Mrs. R. B. Connor, residence, $3,782; Hulshizer Milling Co., $13,500, and the Sparta which is now estimated at $15,000.

This record for the seven and a half months past is more than double the total loss for last year, which was estimated at $24,000. The total number of fire calls for 1912 was 82 as against 73 already registered this year.

Mr. Kerrigan keeps a detailed record of all the fires, their causes, losses and a statement of the part of the building in which it occurred together with other interesting facts. This is kept on file at the central department and the book constantly proves to be a handy reference in the history of city fires.

An exact estimate of the loss to Linehan Bros. in the fire Tuesday morning cannot be made until it is more thoroughly investigated.

NIGHT SCHOOL FOR PARENTS IS PLANNED

SCHOOL BOARD WOULD PROVIDE EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES FOR FATHER AND MOTHER.

Project Has Been Tried Successfully in Other Cities—Board Favors Adoption of Measure.

Night school for fathers and mothers! Several members of the Newark board of education believe it will be realized, and probably during the coming school year. However, it would not be a night school for fathers and mothers exclusively. It would be for every one who desires to take up the study of the rudimentary branches of education.

Reading, writing and arithmetic of course, with geography and history would be offered for a small fee, which would be only sufficient to cover the expense of conducting such a school. Special courses, such as bookkeeping for instance, entailing extra time, would require a slightly larger fee.

The project outlined some time ago to the board of education by Superintendent Hawkins of the public schools, is meeting with favorable consideration on the part of board members and it only remains for plans to be formulated definitely and executed.

In discussing the matter with members of the board Tuesday night Superintendent Hawkins declared it would be an easy matter to accommodate 150 to 200 students at a cost of only $200 or $300 to the board of education. This likely would be covered by the tuition fees collected.

William E. Miller spoke of the project to the Advocate reporter today in enthusiastic terms. He believed from his personal knowledge of the subject that great good would result to many of the working classes of the city.

President Kibler spoke in high favor of the plan.

Superintendent Hawkins cited his experience with a similar project in the public schools of Bellaire, where the night school is now a permanently established institution of the public education system. In Bellaire one year Prof. Hawkins said he had the remarkable case of a girl who was graduating while her father and mother were learning their second reader in the night school. The father was a foundry foreman drawing good wages, and was an intelligent man, but neither of the parents had had the advantage of a common school education.

Should the idea be adopted, the course would be opened with competent instructors in charge, about the middle of October, continuing for four months, with sessions three or four nights a week.

DROUGHT INJURES FRUIT.

Negotiations Between Lind and Mexican Officials Continue

CONSERVATISM RULES

Inflammatory Announcement Made Monday Night Comes from Radicals—Not the Sentiment of All Mexicans.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, Aug. 20.—Still without the complete text of the Huerta government's note rejecting President Wilson's suggestions for peaceful adjustment of the Mexican revolution, administration officials today received further advices describing as cordial the continuation of negotiations between President Huerta and John Lind.

That the United States will not recede from its original proposal that it cannot recognize any regime unless a constitutional election is held, was reiterated by government officials.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Mexico City, Aug. 20.—Further negotiations looking to a peaceful settlement of the Mexican situation following President Huerta's rejection of President Wilson's proposals as submitted by his personal representative John Lind, would appear now to depend upon Washington.

As the United States government is willing to reopen the controversy there is every reason to believe that the Mexican government would be willing.

An official statement from Frederico Gamboa, the Mexican foreign minister, says that negotiations between Lind and the Mexican government have not been "entirely broken off but that they are being continued confidentially."

This statement was given to representatives of the Mexican newspapers for local publication this morning. It was the first news given to the local press since Monday morning.

Mexico's reply to the United States while couched in diplomatic language, was a definite rejection of President Wilson's proposals as presented by John Lind.

Unless the Washington government sees fit to submit new propositions it is considered here that the negotiations will be closed. What the Mexican government may do appears largely a psychological problem.

The statement made by Urrutia, minister of the interior, on Monday night and subsequently denied, that the United States had been given until Tuesday night to recognize the Huerta administration is taken to indicate the attitude of at least a portion of the Mexican government.

But the conservative element appears to have won the upper hand and is showing a tendency to continue friendly relations with Mr. Lind. Ex-governor Lind is today awaiting instructions from Washington. He is still optimistic but believes that the Mexican government may elect to entertain President Wilson's peace proposals. Regarding the character of notes exchanged between the two governments, Mexican officials refuse to enter into any discussion.

The Mexican government yesterday sent to each of the foreign legations in Mexico City a note in which it was stated the negotiations with Ex-governor Lind were continuing in a cordial manner and denying that Minister Urrutia had made any statement which might be regarded as an ultimatum to the United States.

SLIDE DOWN VINE AND ELUDE GUARDS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Philadelphia, Aug. 20.—Using a ladder that they had made in the carpenter shop of the institution, two prisoners, cell-mates, scaled the high wall of the Eastern States penitentiary here today, slid down 48 feet of ivy vine and made their escape. The fugitives are Homer Williams of Wilmington, Delaware, who was serving a long term for the killing of a Taxator of Philadelphia, and Charles J. Tator of Philadelphia, convicted of larceny.

The men occupied a cell in an upper tier. They had filed off the lock and played a false one in position. Early today they made their way to the carpenter shop to which they had access as workmen and obtained the ladder they had from time to time worked on secretly and had concealed.

Consumptives Helped by Tuberculosis Medicine

It is folly to believe that consumption differs from every other disease in not requiring the use of any medicine for its treatment. For a number of years an enormous mass of voluntary and thankful testimonials from persons who consider that they owe their lives to ECKMAN'S Alternative, a medicine for Tuberculosis, has been accumulating. Such a mass of attestation to its lasting value. You can write to any of them. Here is one: "Gentlemen: In the winter of 1901, I had an attack of Grippe, followed by pneumonia and later by consumption. I grew steadily worse. In the winter of 1904 I had cough, night sweats, fever and raised quantities of sputum. I had the first quiet night's sleep for weeks. My improvement was marked from the first. I gained strength and weight. I had the cough gradually lessened until entirely gone. I am perfectly well. Everything I say here can be verified by my family and friends." ANNE E. LOUGHAN, Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, etc., and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling how to recover, and write to Eckman Laboratories, Philadelphia, Pa., for name evidence. For sale by all leading druggists in Newark. (Advertisement)

"DOC" CARSON BUILDS THREE CLASS B LEAGUES

—ON PAPER.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 20.—Seeking reorganization of baseball in the middle west following the collapse of the Interstate circuit when towns in Pennsylvania and Ohio were deprived of their organized game by Frank H. Carson of this city, formerly president of the Central league, has just made public a proposal that he promises to excite much enthusiasm among fans in cities concerned. Dr. Carson would replace the present Central league and other non-defunct cities, with three new class B leagues and one class C circuit.

Akron, Canton, Youngstown, Springfield and Dayton, Ohio, along with Erie, Pa. and Wheeling, W. Va. are suggested by Dr. Carson for the best class B leagues. Next he would take Terre Haute and perhaps Evansville, Ind., with Danville, Dayton, Dayton, Rock Island, Bloomington, Springfield and Peoria, for a more compact circuit for the Three I league. Fort Wayne and Grand Rapids now of the Central league with Kalamazoo, Lansing, Jackson, Battle Creek, Bay City and Saginaw in Michigan, he proposes for the third league.

HEALTH AUTHORITIES TAKE PRECAUTIONS

A farmer who was bringing food stuffs to the market Wednesday morning and who had sickness in his home with appearances of typhoid fever was summarily ordered off the market place by health authorities. Health Officer Knauss has investigated the causes and has found that in a few cases it is communicated to several families who use butter delivered by the same parties. It has always been the policy of the department to exclude people from the market who have typhoid or indications of it in their homes and such people are never allowed to handle food stuffs.

The man who was ordered away this morning had been warned that he could not sell, because there was sickness at his home which had symptoms of typhoid fever. He was directed not to bring any butter, milk or raw foods into market until notified to the contrary.

SLANG NOT POPULAR WITH SPORT READERS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Chicago, Aug. 20.—(Slang, as a means of the proper description of baseball games in the newspapers, came out a little behind straight forward English according to the verdict of several thousand readers in a test vote taken by a Chicago newspaper.

Of a total of 3,350 ballots recorded today, 2,800 declared for the plain English description of baseball games.

The figures for plain English were qualified by several thousand who expressed themselves in favor of the use of a moderate amount of snappy descriptive phrases not limited to dictionary words, however.

Many votes in favor of slang, but demanded the elimination of nicknames.

WILL OPPOSE NEGRO PUGILIST'S ACT

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

London, Aug. 20.—The Federation of Variety Artists, according to the Times, is likely to take effective measures to prevent the appearance of Jack Johnson in London. His scheduled exhibition here has brought many remonstrances that the London public after revelations of Johnson's violations of the White Slave laws of the United States, would not welcome the pugilist as an entertainer.

STATE FAIR

This Year Will Cost 12 Times as Much as it Cost to Discover The New World.

Christopher Columbus spent the modest sum of $8,000 to discover America. This was excursion travel. The Ohio State Fair will this year cost 12 times as much as the new world cost. The rising value of this great Exposition is appreciated in many states. Ohio citizens are proud of it. Its marvelous growth is drawing larger crowds every year. The business man and the business farmer appreciate its value most. It teaches lessons in profit and pleasure. Reports indicate that thousands will come this year who have never done so before. "Going to Ohio State Fair, is a money making trip for me." This was the remark of a man who lives in town but owns a farm. "I find out what kind of live stock is profitable, and what kind of machinery is the cheapest and the best."

Information bureaus will guide all strangers in the city. Good rooms at reasonable prices may be easily had. Advertisement.

MEXICO FORGOTTEN WHILE PRESIDENT HUNTS BALL SCORE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, Aug. 20.—Not even the tense situation in Mexico avails to dull President Wilson's keen interest in the tense situation in the baseball struggle, it developed today. After spending a busy day over the Mexican situation, the president last night suddenly realized he had not learned the scores—especially the result of Washington-Cleveland game.

"Let us go and find out," he is reported to have said to his physician, Dr. Cary Grayson, at the same time reaching for his hat. The two left the White House and strolled down Pennsylvania avenue, closely followed by two secret service men. The President led the way at a swinging gate to the score board in front of a morning newspaper office and studied the baseball results Democratically with a group of other baseball enthusiasts. When he discovered that Washington had defeated Cleveland after a tenning struggle, he smiled his satisfaction and spoke in an inaudible tone to Dr. Grayson. The little group then strolled back in the direction of the White House.

INDIANA FOOTBALL SQUAD AT WORK

Bloomington, Ind., Aug. 20.—Determined to make a better showing on the gridiron this year than was made last, Indiana University's football squad will be in good physical condition when the practice starts on Jordan Field September 19, if hard work among the members counts for anything. Their coach is giving them the workout of their lives, and it appears to be doing its work as the men show much better form than when practice was begun.

The first conference game will be played in Marshall Field at Chicago, October 4, when the new stadium will be dedicated.

MANUEL PAWNS FATHER'S JEWELS

Pension and Income Fail to Supply His Needs.

HIS FIANCEE IS WEALTHY.

Fortune to Be Recouped When He Marries Princess Victoria Augustina of Hohenzollern—Deposed King Now Living Near London With Mother.

London.—Pawnbrokers in the neighborhood of Richmond, the historic little town on the Thames where Manuel, former king of Portugal, is now making his home with his mother, Queen Amelia, have been in temporary possession for the last few months of many very beautiful pieces of jewelry and some very valuable unset gems. One diamond cross with a huge sapphire in the center which now lies in the safe of a certain pawnbroker in Richmond is said to be one of the most valuable and gorgeous decorations worn by Manuel's father.

Considerable wonder is expressed that the young man who once occupied the Portuguese throne should be in such hard straits, for Portugal allows him $3,300 a month. He is extravagant, however, and his mother is understood not to be very practical. When Manuel marries Princess Victoria Augustina of Hohenzollern in a few weeks his fortunes will be recouped, as his future bride is quite wealthy.

King Alfonso during his recent visit to London had a heart to heart talk with Manuel. He told the young man that if the royalist party ever succeeded in putting him back in power in Portugal it would be his duty to play the man and not the coward, to quit going about with a bodyguard and, in fact, regain the confidence of his people by demonstrating that he was all a king and no longer a boy.

EX-KING MANUEL AND HIS FIANCEE, PRINCESS VICTORIA AUGUSTINE.

swayed by whims and theatrical stars such as Gaby Deslys and constantly in terror of his life.

Alfonso added with characteristic fatalism and intrepidity: "A king must not only rule his people, but must make them feel he is willing to lead them and share their troubles and their dangers. We kings are instruments in the hands of fate and must serve our destiny in the best and most manly fashion we can, no matter what fate is in store for us."

Confidential monarchs do not approve in toto of the public introduction in England of the former Portuguese royal family as "King Manuel and Queen Amelia." The German emperor in particular has been much puzzled lately as to how to treat the approaching marriage of the royal ex-ile with a German princess. He does not want to antagonize the present Portuguese government, and at the same time there is no reason why he should not maintain friendly relations with Manuel, who is related to more than one of the royal families of Europe and whose chance of one day rescuing the Portuguese throne is by no means poor.

The Kaiser has solved the difficulty by saying that Prince, Elitel Friedrich may attend the wedding as a special invited guest, but not as the official representative of the reigning Hohenzollern family, thus straddling the fence in the most approved diplomatic fashion, for the presence of the German prince will give the necessary recognition after all.

Worked Eighteen Years Without Pay.
Montpelier, Ind.—J. Stewart, sixty years old, who for eighteen years worked as a clerk in a cigar store here without pay, died recently. Though he had access to the cash drawer, with instructions to take any amount he wanted, he always contented himself with taking 15 cents three times a day to buy his meals and an occasional sum with which to buy clothing.

The convention will open Saturday morning at 11 o'clock with Mayor F. M. Swartz delivering the address of welcome. President John Schwaab of the Alliance will respond. Saturday afternoon the sessions of the conventions will be given over to business.

On Saturday evening the delegates will form in line at 8:30 o'clock at the convention hall in the high school building and will parade down West Main street and around the square to music hall where a banquet will be held. The parade will be lighted by red fire. While the men are banqueting the ladies in attendance at the convention will be banquetted at Schaller hall by the ladies' committee. Singing societies from Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus and Newark will furnish a musical program while the accompaniment will be played by Stock's orchestra.

The session will conclude with the singing of "Die Wacht am Rhein."

Sunday morning a session will be held in the high school and after the conclusion of business and the election of officers, the delegates will take cars to Moundbuilders park, where an outing will be held. A special program of vocal numbers has been arranged by the singing societies, and the Buckeye band will play during the afternoon.

CANAL TO BE USED NEXT DECEMBER

Final Completion Expected Jan. 1, 1915, However.

DREDGES IN CULEBRA CUT.

Steam Shovels Displaced by Thirty-four Modern Appliances With a Monthly Excavating Capacity of 1,500,000 Cubic Yards.

Washington.—All reports from the Panama canal zone indicate that Colonel George W. Goethals will be ready to allow shallow draft ships to pass through the canal by next December. This has been the understanding ever since Colonel Goethals testified before the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce in December, 1911, but he and his associates do not expect the canal to be ready for the navies of the world until Jan. 1, 1915. No official time has been fixed for the actual opening, but that is the date when Colonel Goethals expects to complete the work.

Dredges are to replace steam shovels in the excavation of the Culebra Cut. The thirty-four steam shovels used in the cut handle only 800,000 cubic yards of earth and rock per month, which output will be greatly reduced as the depth of the cut increases and the available room for shoveling is reduced. Colonel Goethals has now assembled fifteen dredges, with a monthly capacity of 1,500,000 cubic yards, and these will be floated into the cut as soon as the dike is destroyed.

Meanwhile, not content with digging away at the base of the dikes, the engineers, in their haste to open up the waterway, have begun to tear away the top of the hills with great jets of water under high pressure, sluicing the earth into the bed of the canal, whence it is being swept up by pneumatic dredges and pumps and discharged into ravines and valleys so far away that it can never wash back.

The status of the canal work, according to the understanding among officials here, on the basis of the reports from the isthmus, is as follows:

June 27, 1913.—The last gate of Gatun spillway was closed, and since that time Gatun lake has been steadily rising through the impounding of water from the Chagres river and other streams, displacing 1,320 square miles of territory.

Oct. 1, 1913.—The water in Gatun lake is expected to reach seventy-one feet above sea level.

Oct. 10, 1913.—The great Gamboa dike, which keeps the water of Gatun lake from flowing into Culebra cut during dredging operations, is to be blown up with dynamite and water admitted into the cut. The top of this dike is 78.2 feet above sea level.

Dec. 1, 1913.—The level of the water in Gatun lake and Culebra cut is expected to reach its final limit of eighty-five feet above sea level.

December, 1913.—Vessels drawing probably twenty to twenty-five feet of water may be put through the canal, while light dredges will be completing the deepening of the submerged channel through Culebra cut.

Jan. 1, 1915.—The canal will be ready for ships of the navies of the world to pass through both sets of locks, and vessels will be able to use the canal to its full depth, going in opposite directions at the same time.

INVENTS TIPPING SYSTEM.
Opens Bank Account For Waitress.

St. Louis.—Lee Moser, a banker, has convinced himself that he has worked out the ideal tipping system.

Mr. Moser, who is young and good looking, thought he was so well taken care of by a young woman who waited on him in his favorite lunch room that he obtained her name and went to the savings department of a trust company and opened a dollar account in her name. He kept patronizing the cafe, and none but the girl with the savings account could wait on him.

He never affronts her with a tip, but when he feels that the service is especially good a deposit goes to the credit of the waitress.

Postal savings deposits amount to $28,000,000.

MUTUAL RELATIONS AND INTERESTS OF THE BELL SYSTEM AND THE PUBLIC

The suit brought by the United States questioning the purchase of certain telephone properties in the northwest, as well as the pending Interstate Commerce Commission telephone investigation, have caused many inquiries. Without taking up anything going to the merits of these proceedings, it has seemed to us proper to state generally what has been our policy and purpose in the conduct of our business.

We have found, or thought that we had, that our interests were best served when the public interests were best served, and we believe that such success as we have had has been because our business has been conducted on these lines.

We believe that our company has an interest as vital as that of the public in the proper administration of the problems of electrical intercommunication. The success and prosperity of our company depend upon a solution of these problems which shall be sound from both the standpoint of the company and the public which it serves.

Following our own best judgment, supplemented by the best obtainable advice, we have endeavored to do what would best serve the public interest; wherever possible our plans have been disclosed to the public in advance, and what has been done in carrying them out has been along ordinary business lines, with the implied, and generally, with the expressed approval, authorization or consent of the municipal and state authorities directly interested. Our effort has been not only to obey the law, but to avoid everything which might even have the appearance of an attempt at evasion.

Our business methods and policy, and practically all of the details as to the transaction of our business, are matters of common knowledge, and are, and for many years have been, well known to the government. We will willingly furnish the government any additional information which is in our possession or under our control, and will cordially co-operate with it in obtaining such further information as it may require. Every possible assistance will be given by us to the courts in their effort to determine whether our policy is or has been inimical to the public interest. We desire that anything wrong be corrected; we will voluntarily rectify any wrong that may be pointed out to us, and so far as it may be determined that our policy or any act under it is against the public interest, we will promptly conform to such determination.

We believe that if each of our exchanges were made an independent unit and if each connecting line were put under a separate control, the effect upon the telephone service of the country would be a condition so intolerable that the public would refuse to submit to it and would immediately require such physical connection and common control of these various units as would amalgamate them into a single system. Physical connection in the case of telephone or telegraph does not mean transfer of messages from one line to the other. It means such a connection as will permit one person to have the actual possession of the particular line of communication from one end of it to the other and this can only be given efficiently by exchange systems and connecting lines under a common control; and that is what the Bell System is.

In this connection, and for general information, we will restate the policy which controlled the building up of the Bell System, and our belief as to what a telephone system should be, and what are its relations to the public.

We believe in and were the first to advocate state or government control and regulation of public utilities; that such control or regulation should be by permanent and quasi-judicial bodies, acting after thorough investigation and governed by the equities of each case, and that this control or regulation, beyond requiring the greatest efficiency and economy, should not interfere with management or operation. We believe that these bodies, if they are to be permanent, effective and of public benefit, should be thoroughly representative, they should be of such character and should so conduct their investigations and deliberations as to command such respect from both the public and the corporations that both will without question accept their conclusions.

We believe that the public would in this way get all the advantages and avoid all the manifest disadvantages of public ownership.

We believe that centers of business and population exist for the convenience of the public as a whole, and that no such center can prosper without sufficient and efficient means of intercourse with other centers and tributary territories; that such means can only be afforded by prosperous companies, and service companies and that fair rates are essential to prosperous companies. We do not believe that any public utility deserves or can obtain, nor can any service or utility furnish, permanent and efficient service at less than cost, including capital charges.

We believe that ultimately the public either directly or indirectly pays the losses involved in the efforts to furnish such service at less than its fair cost, either through the loss of the capital involved, the losses incident to poor service or the necessary increase in charges required to pay for duplication of capital.

We believe that the highest commercial value of the telephone service depends on its completeness—on the extent and comprehensiveness of the facilities for intercommunication, not only between individuals but between centers of population, that no isolated section can be considered independently of any other section or of the whole that rates must be so adjusted as to make it possible to obtain the maximum development by making it possible for every one to be connected who will add to the value of the system, thus giving the greatest value to the greatest number; that the interdependence of the telephone service and the value of complete and universal intercommunication justify and require some services partly at the expense of the whole for the benefit of the whole.

We believe that this highest commercial value can only be attained by one system under one common control and that it cannot be given by independent systems unless they are operated under agreements which result in one common control and one common interest, in effect making them a single system.

We believe that rates should be so adjusted as to afford the company sufficient revenue to pay such wages and compensation as will secure the most efficient service; to maintain the very highest and most advanced standards of plant and apparatus, to carry on such scientific and experimental research and inventions as to improve methods and to insure the highest standards, and to carry to remove and depreciation such amounts as will enable the company at any time to replace old plant and old methods with new plant and new methods as fast as they may be developed and found to be to the advantage of the service.

We believe that in addition, such fair charges should be paid upon the investment in plant as will enable the company at any time to obtain money necessary to provide the plant required to meet the continuing demands of the public; and in order that waste and duplication of effort may be avoided and uniformity of purpose and common control be enforced, that there should be a centralized general administration in close communication with and having general authority over the whole on matters common to all or matters of general policy.

We believe that any surplus beyond that necessary to equalize dividends on a fair basis should be used by the company for the benefit of the public and should be inalienable for any other purpose, and should be either invested in revenue-earning plant until necessary to substitute plant which may become inadequate or obsolete, or should be used to make the service cheaper or better.

We believe that under proper governmental control and regulation the profits from promotion or operation allowed to be distributed should not be so large as to warrant or tempt complete duplication of plant and organization, with its duplication of its capital charges and its organization, operating, maintenance and depreciation expenses; and we do not believe that utilities giving at fair rates an efficient and sufficiently comprehensive universal service should be subject to limited competition, not giving such service. Competition which ignores the obligation to furnish a complete and comprehensive service is not competition, is not for the benefit of the public in that it does not reach the whole public interested.

If, therefore, complete duplication, with its dual exchange connection and dual bills for service, is a prerequisite to complete competition, government control and regulation cannot go hand in hand with competition.

We believe that the record of the Bell System will be accepted by the public as fully in accord with these declarations. Consistent adherence to this policy has given the public of the United States the best, most comprehensive and cheapest telephone service in the world and made the Bell standards the standards of all nations.

To remove any possible excuse for misapprehension on account of the many misleading statements which have been circulated as to the alleged unnecessary and overcapitalization and excessive charges of the Bell System, the following statistics are given. Except where stated, the figures are for the Bell System; that is, the American Telephone and Telegraph, and its Associated Companies.

The entire Bell System on June 30, 1913, had outstanding in the hands of the public obligations (i. e., notes, open accounts, bonds and shares) to the par value of $776,000,000.

The book value of the total tangible assets, which is considerably less than their replacement value, amounted to $960,000,000. Many appraisals of property included in these assets have been made, and most of them under the direction of public authorities. In no case has the value as it stands on the books failed to be sustained, and in most cases it has been very largely exceeded.

The total dividends and interest paid during the year 1912 amounted to only 6 1/2% on the average of its outstanding obligations, and to less than 5% on the average value of its assets.

The actual cash which has been paid into the treasury of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company on account of the capital obligations now outstanding amounts to $22,000,000 more than the par of such outstanding obligations.

The Associated Companies collected from the public and paid back in taxes over $10,000,000 during the year 1912.

The steadily increasing necessities of the public not only for additional but for new telephone service can only be met by new construction, involving capital outlay. To meet these demands during the six and one-half years from 1907 to June, 1913, inclusive, the increase in telephone plant was as follows: Toll line wire increased from 1,460,000 miles to 2,242,000 miles; exchange wire increased from 6,000,000 miles to 13,000,000 miles; the number of exchange stations increased from 2,730,000 to 5,200,000; the number of stations of independent companies connected with the Bell System increased from 345,000 to 7,620,000. The number of independent companies connected with the Bell System increased from 343,000 to 2,000 employees in the Bell System, not including the employees of connected companies, on December 31, 1912, was 141,000.

During this same period the number of shareholders of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, not including either the associated or connected companies, increased from 17,000 to about 54,000. About 47,000 shareholders hold less than 100 shares each, 6,500 shareholders hold from 100 to 1,000 shares each, 347 shareholders hold from 1,000 to 5,000 shares each, while there are only 16 shareholders of 5,000 shares or over in the ownership. A majority of the shareholders are women.

Big Saving to Ohio Taxpayers' by State Industrial Commission

A comprehensive program of administration that is relied upon by the members of the State Industrial Commission to save the tax payers thousands of dollars to improve the service rendered in the seven labor departments recently consolidated was related to Governor Cox by the members of the commission at one of the conferences, which the state executive is having with departmental heads to get a better knowledge of all administrative affairs.

This commission is a part of the state administration's program for coordinating the work of state departments engaged in kindred activities, for the purpose of eliminating waste that crept into the establishments under a system which permitted independent state departmental heads to work without harmony or common design, although kindred results were desired.

Under this act, seven independent labor departments that have been scattered in several office buildings will be grouped on a single floor and a working organization will be affected through these sub-departments.

First—Accounts. Heretofore the seven heads of the departments have been handling their respective appropriations and collecting fees. Here after the more business-like policy of having all financial matters cared for in a single office will be followed, and the department of accounts will have jurisdiction over everything relating to finances. All purchases will be made through this department, and this concentration is expected to save money. In addition, the collection and distribution of the immense insurance fund will be made through this office, pay rolls will be audited and scanned and all fees will be collected.

Second—Claims. Here all claims and bills will be prepared for presentation to the state board. In addition the activities of the inspectors will be supervised in such a way that the service will be improved and Ohio employers will no longer be harassed with a corps of men whose efforts duplicated and overlapped. The state will be divided into several areas, and men with diversified training and experience will be employed to do all of the inspecting for each district. Working in smaller areas the traveling expenses of inspectors will be greatly reduced.

Fourth—Statistics and Investigation. Here all figures relating to the administration of the consolidated departments will be prepared and deductions and conclusions will be made that will prove of value. Watchful eyes will be kept by this bureau for methods of administration to better the service.

Fifth—Censors of Moving Pictures. This is a departure for the purpose of improving the moral tone of this class of exhibitions. The "movies" are becoming more and more the family entertainer, and the State Administration proposes that nothing degrading shall be exhibited, but that an elevating and refining influence shall emanate from this source.

PUBLICATION OF CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

State Printer Frank Harper has arranged to give the widest publicity possible to the four proposed constitutional amendments which the electors are to vote upon at the polls next November.

Intrusted with the expenditure of a fund of $50,000 for this purpose, Mr. Harper will spend every cent of it with the newspapers of Ohio, for he is confident that no better advertising medium exists in the world, and that no better one ever will be created.

And every newspaper in the state will be given an opportunity to assist in advertising the proposed amendments to the state's basic law—no favorites will be played and all will be treated alike.

For several weeks Harper has been engaged in preparing a list of papers. There are 819 publications on the list which has been compiled. Each one of the 819 has received a letter from

Uncle Walt's Philosophy

The Middleman.

When the world seems dark and gloomy as a hearse, and the land is daily growing worse and worse, then it makes our lives more pleasant if there is a straw man present, who must take the goat we hand him, and the curse just at present man's reading board and robe, since it costs so much to live upon this globe, and we've found a worthy victim, and we all have punched and kicked him, and the Middleman must do the stunt of Job. Oh, the Middleman we've chosen as the goat, and we strive to get our fingers on his throat, and as David slugged Goliath we shall slug this foul pariah if we ever get our clutches on his coat! When we take a slice of liver from the pan, and the butcher's swollen bill we wildly scan, then we hoist the crossbones banner, saying in a warlike manner, "We must go and lynch a moulted Middleman!" When man buys a suit of clothes he waits and rants: "I am paying seven dollars for my pants! On a smoking red hot griddle should be placed the man of middle, with his sisters and his cousins and his aunts!" And the Middleman, he through the alleys sneaks; not a friend in all the city to him speaks; he is shunned, or he is greeted by bombardment oft repeated, by a chorus of indignant howls and shrieks!

the results of his night school work will be pronounced. The Advocate is glad Prof. Hawkins has made this recommendation and is pleased to know that it is receiving the careful consideration of the school board members. A public night school will help to build Newark.

Wisdom from Washington

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Aug. 20.—[Special.]—Republicans of progressive tendencies, particularly those who opposed with such vigor the Payne-Aldrich bill of four years ago, have begun to have misgivings as to what they had better do with the Underwood bill. It is true that most of them have criticized it severely. Some of them, however, have voted against their party associates on amendments increasing the rates over the committee's report. If the senators from the region which Senator La Follette calls "the old northwest" could get a little increase of duty on some of the agricultural products they would be very likely to vote for the bill.

But the reduction of duty on these articles was for the purpose of reducing the cost of living, and the Democrats cannot very well raise the duties. Besides, they do not need to do so in order to secure enough votes to pass the tariff bill.

Was a Money Convert.

In digging up the history of John Lind, the president's special envoy to Mexico, many people have made the mistake of saying that Lind left the Republican party on account of the tariff. That is not the case. He voted against the Mills bill, which was supported by Knute Nelson, now a Republican senator from Minnesota.

Lind supported the McKinley bill and all the Republican policies of the Fifty-first congress, although he made very faces over some of them. He was an out and out free silver man, and, although not in congress, he bolted the Republican party on the gold plank of 1896. He supported Bryan in that and every subsequent campaign. He was sent to Mexico because he was Bryan's friend.

A Busy Ambassador.

In private letters to his brother, who represents a North Carolina district in congress, Ambassador Page says that he is right busy over there in Britain keeping up with all that is going on, attending necessary functions and looking after the diplomatic interests of this country.

"Where's His Umbrella?"

The rather ferocious attitude of Senator William Alden Smith in regard to Mexico recalls the fact that he was one of the "insurgents" just before the Spanish war. That body of about forty Republican members of the house opposed Tom Reed and his conservative associates; also President McKinley and his cabinet on the Cuban question and were constantly threatening to join the Democrats and pass a resolution declaring Cuba free.

Among other exploits of then Representative Smith was a visit to Cuba, where certain Standards, knowing his opinions, were decidedly antagonistic to him and showed it on the streets of Havana. On one occasion several Standards threatened Smith, and "I put them to flight with my umbrella," he said in telling the incident. As William Alden breaks forth on the Mexican situation some of his friends quietly ask, "Where's his umbrella?"

As to Consistency.

Very few men have remained in public life twenty years and always been on the same side of a question. "We are none of us consistent, perhaps," said Senator Thomas during a tariff discussion. "I know that any man somewhat notorious in his life is full of inconsistencies."

John Garner's Goat.

The Angola goat, which was known as John Garner's goat in the house because the Texas congressman did considerable work to have him protected, bobbed up in the senate the other day when some one pointed out that, although an attempt had been made to admit goats free of duty, there was a sort of "basket clause" provision under which the Angola would have to pay a duty of 10 per cent. And it hung upon the question as to whether or not the Angola was good eating.

"I do not know whether or not the Angola is good eating," said John Sharp Williams. "I have never eaten any. I have tried to eat the common goat, but from my standpoint it is not fit to eat."

Jasper Ellington, who bitterly condemns the manner in which women "get themselves up," got into a chair at the barber shop yesterday and took a shave, a massage, hair tonic and mustache dye.

Not His Usual Warrant.

A police magistrate in Paris had a queer experience not long ago which began with an interview with an hysterical woman. She rushed into his office, past the attendant and, interrupting a conversation, threw a crumpled letter on the officer's desk and with pathetic gesture wailed: "Save him! Save him!"

The official thought he had an insane person before him, but picked up the paper, which looked like a letter. It began in letters larger than the body of the document: "You must die! Nothing will save you! You must die!" "He has always been a good man, and the little we owe we can pay at any time," the woman said between sobs, "and now there is a conspiracy against him."

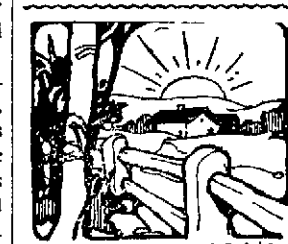

While she was protesting the magistrate read the letter and, handing it back, said: "Go home to your family—read the rest of this letter. It is a life insurance advertisement."

The woman then told the magistrate she could not read, that a neighbor had read for her, and so many people were being killed, and she was so happy.

The Sun Came Climbing Up.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

The Firefly

Was Beaten

By the Sun.

THERE was a nice breeze blowing through the window. "I'm glad we live in such a nice cool place," said daddy to Jack and Evelyn. "Even if it has been hot all day, it is generally comfortable here by bedtime."

Jack and Evelyn looked out of the window. They could see the leaves of the trees nodding in the breeze. The crickets were chirping to one another, and here and there darted great white fireflies.

"I should think they would be warm," Jack remarked.

"That kind of fire doesn't burn," daddy said. "Nobody knows exactly how the firefly makes his light, either. It is a very wonderful light."

"Even when it is raining the light may be still seen as the little creatures dart about close to the ground."

"If you caught one of the fireflies you would see that he is a very common looking brown bug. He is handsome only when his light shines out."

"Once on a time there was a big handsome firefly that was very vain. He thought his light was the greatest and brightest light in the whole world."

"Ho, ho," cried this firefly one night as a little boy went along the road with a lantern. "I can make a better light than you do." And he darted away through the bushes looking like a floating star.

"By and by it began to rain, and the thunder rolled and the lightning flashed."

"Ho, ho," laughed the firefly as the lightning flashed about him; "I shine on just the same, while you go out in a second!"

"One night the moon came out. At first it was just the little crescent moon, but each night it grew larger until the full moon shone in the sky."

"The firefly flitted about among the shadowy trees and through the bushes."

"Ho, ho," he laughed; "I'm just as bright as you are! You can't put me out with your shining!"

"He was so pleased with having outshone the moon and the northern lights that he danced all night."

"Ho, ho," he cried; "I can shine more brightly than any one in the world!"

"Just then the round old sun came climbing up from behind an eastern hill, and the firefly's light grew fainter and fainter. When the sun reached the top of the hill you wouldn't know that the firefly had a light. His light was drowned out by the good broad light of day."

"And the firefly was so mortified that he crawled away under a leaf deep in some bushes and now he sleeps all day because he knows he cannot beat the light of the sun, no matter how he may shine."

Society

The Country club was transformed into a Chinese bower by the use of Chinese lanterns and flowers on Tuesday evening when the operetta, "The Feast of Little Lanterns" was given. An Oriental distinction was given in the twinkling of weird music and the flash of beautiful colors intermingling in the silken robes of the members of the cast.

The music of the opera was delightfully pleasing and the staging and production were perfection under the direction of Miss Florence King. Miss King was presented with a large cluster of American Beauty roses during the performance.

The principal roles were sung by Mrs. Clarence Hayes, Miss Badgwell of Lafayette, Ind., Miss Charlotte Webb and Mrs. Lee Huff of Louisville, Kentucky.

Mrs. Charles Smith is entertaining a few friends with a luncheon at the Country club this afternoon.

JAMISON-SCHENCK.

Among the recent events of interest to Newark society was the marriage of Mr. Orville A. Jamison and Miss Gladys Schenck on Wednesday morning at the parsonage of Rev. S. C. Sparks in North Fifth street.

They were accompanied by Miss Esie Schenck of Pittsburgh, sister of the bride, and Mr. Lloyd V. Bates of Columbus, a classmate of the groom and a former Newark boy. Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left for an extensive trip through the east where they expect to visit at Cleveland, Lisbon, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, and Boston, ending their trip at Arona, Maine, where they will make their future home and where the groom has accepted a lucrative position in the Animal Industry department of the University of Maine.

Miss Schenck is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Schenck of Channel street, while the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Jamison of North Williams street and a graduate of O. S. U. class of 1912, and has been professor of dairying since graduating at the Agricultural College at Lansing, Michigan. Both Mr. and Mrs. Jamison have a large circle of friends among whom they are very popular and who will wish them all the joy and happiness possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Imhoff and Miss Grace Highland of North Fifth street have as their guest this week Mr. Albert Cook of St. Augustine, Fla. This being Mr. Cook's first visit to the north, he is much pleased with all that he has seen. ULIVI THREAT TO END WAR.

Says His Rays Explode Submarine Mines Fifteen Miles Away.

Paris.—In an interview in reference to his invention by means of which he says he is able to fire explosives many miles distant by the employment of infra-red rays, the Italian Ulivi ascertains that he has succeeded in exploding a submarine mine fifteen miles distant from the yacht on which he was experimenting near Havre.

Ulivi declined absolutely to give details of his apparatus or the results of the tests carried out in the presence of high officials of the French army and navy. He is said to be about to leave Havre, where there is too much danger for others. "It is certain," he says, "that if the infra-red rays struck a ship carrying explosives they would cause a disaster."

It is said that the rays will put an end to all warfare if they are able to do what the inventor says they can.

OHIO ORGANIST IS VIGOROUS AT 127.

Has Smoked and Used Liquor For Many Years Past.

Massillon, O.—Members of St. Barbara's Roman Catholic church at West Brookfield, a hamlet west of here, have begun preparations to celebrate next December the one hundred and twenty-eighth birthday anniversary of Francis Xavier Firestein, parish organist, one time parish schoolmaster, scholar and savant.

For years Mr. Firestein has lived in the town, known to be more than 100 years of age by every man, woman and child, loved by everybody, but jealously guarding information regarding his life from all but a very few intimate friends.

Mr. Firestein lives alone in a little cottage in the rear of St. Barbara's church. Gardens and fields stretch away on all sides, while his door yard is bordered with bright, sweet scented flowers. Inside are shelves of books in the seven different languages he speaks, a little cabinet organ with a row of bronzed pipes arising from its top, comfortable chairs, a table and the equipment of a well ordered home. Mr. Firestein raises vegetables, but bread and coffee are his almost exclusive diet, and he thrives upon it, as his healthy looking but wrinkled skin and slightly stooped but active figure testify.

Mr. Firestein has drunk wine as long as he can remember, and that is on the other side of year 1800, when as a boy he went to school in Vienna, Austria, where his father was a noted physician.

SAYS GRAY HAIR VANISHES AFTER APPLYING SAGE TEA

A Mixture of Sage and Sulphur Prevents Dandruff and Falling Hair.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur no one can tell, because it's done so naturally; so evenly. It is also splendid to remove dandruff, cure itching scalp and stop falling hair.

Preparing this mixture, though, at home is a messy and troublesome task. For about 50 cents a bottle you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use tonic called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." Some druggists put this mixture up themselves but make it too sticky, so insist you want "Wyeth's" then there will be no disappointment.

You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" and draw it through your hair taking one small strand at a time. Do this at night and by morning all gray hair disappears and after another application or two becomes beautifully darkened and more glossy and luxuriant than ever. You will also discover dandruff is gone and hair has stopped falling.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and you'll look years younger. Inquiry shows all pharmacists in town here sell lots of it. Hall's Drug Store, 10 N. Side Square, Agent.

Why is the soda cracker today such a universal food?

People ate soda crackers in the old days, it is true—but they bought them from a barrel or box and took them home in a paper bag, their crispness and flavor all gone.

Uneda Biscuit—soda crackers better than any ever made before—made in the greatest bakeries in the world—baked to perfection—packed to perfection—kept to perfection until you take them, oven-fresh and crisp, from their protecting package. Five cents.

Round Table.

Dr. Byron W. King gave an interesting discussion before the Teachers' Institute Wednesday morning on the subject "Speech Defects and Cures." Mr. King has classified the sounds and in his discussion showed how the use of certain sounds made others easier to pronounce. In arranging his vowel sounds, he said he "had a scale of his own, like a fish."

These vowel sounds as Mr. King demonstrated are classified according to the part of the mouth and throat in which they are made. Starting with the sound made lowest in the throat they proceed upward in a regular gradation. In the case of consonants, nearly all can be placed in the Malne forests, twenty miles from a settlement, just as did prehistoric man. He discarded all clothing, made the woodland furnish his food and shelter and defends himself from animals or other foes only with the aid of his bare hands or with such weapons as he may fashion with them.

For two months he will make his home in the depths of the virgin forest that surrounds Big Sencer lake. Twice a week he goes to the borders of the forest to leave communications, inscribed on birch bark, for his friends.

Now is forty-four years of age, has knowledge marred and has always lived a life of adventure. He is one of the few white men who have mastered the art of making fire by rubbing sticks. The accomplishment, he says, is all that is needed for a life in the open by a man of his robust health.

MILLIONS FROM "VICES."

Record Breaking Drinking, Smoking and Card Playing Taxes.

Washington.—The wealth of gold, silver and paper money filling the vaults of the federal treasury is due in no small measure to the record breaking drinking, smoking and card playing of the American people during the fiscal year 1913. Details of the sources of the $344,424,453 collected in internal revenue taxes during the year ended on June 30—the greatest in the history of the country—were disclosed in a report to Secretary McAdoo by William R. Osborne, commissioner of internal revenue.

The 143,220,000 gallons of whisky and brandy consumed during the year brought in $157,542,000; the 65,246,000 barrels of beer, porter and ales, $65,246,000; the 14,276,771,000 cigarettes, $17,844,000; the 7,699,038,000 cigars, $22,007,000; the chewing and smoking of 404,368,000 pounds of tobacco, $32,340,000; taxes on 31,209,000 pounds of snuff, $2,057,000, and the sale of 32,704,155 packs of playing cards, an income of 1,862,475 over the previous year, brought $635,283.

The aggregate number of saloons in the country this year was 104,590, a decrease, despite the increased consumption of intoxicants, of 21,534 as compared with the fiscal year 1912. Wholesale liquor dealers numbered 6,432, a decrease of 900 within a year.

Total internal revenue receipts of 1913 exceeded the previous high record of 1911 by $21,998,000 and the collections of 1912 by $22,800,000. To collect the enormous sum it cost the government $5,493,000.

Boston Artist Makes Woods Furnish Food and Shelter.

Boston, Mass.—Joseph Knowles, a Boston artist, is in the middle of an experiment to prove that he can live in the Maine forests, twenty miles from a settlement, just as did prehistoric man. He discarded all clothing, made the woodland furnish his food and shelter and defends himself from animals or other foes only with the aid of his bare hands or with such weapons as he may fashion with them. For two months he will make his home in the depths of the virgin forest that surrounds Big Sencer lake. SUCK POISON; SAVE GIRLS.

Women Draw Virus From Wounds of Children Bitten by Dog.

Rochester, N. Y.—Elsie Parish, writer of verse for children, and Mrs. William Sterling of Pittsford took her role measures to save the lives of two little girls that had been bitten by a dog that was suffering from rabies.

They applied their lips to the wounds on the little ones and drew much of the virus from the flesh, but apparently took part of the poison into their own systems. They became so ill that Dr. C. C. Comfort telegraphed to Cornell university for hydrophobia serum. It is believed that all four will recover, but Dr. Comfort will take no chances and will have them all inoculated.

HAS THIRD SET OF TEETH.

Cat Near Death, When Diet Wrought Marvelous Change.

Huntington, Pa.—Dr. C. W. Fox of Roaring Springs is the possessor of a cat that has its third set of teeth. Some time ago the cat became weak and thin, and as it was seventeen years old it was expected to die.

Finding that the cat was toothless, the physician ordered ground steak for his old pet, and soon a change for the better was noted. Now the animal is fat and sleek, and its fur is thick and glossy. Upon examination it was found that it had grown its third set of teeth.

SOUTHERN COLLEGES GOOD.

Entrance Standards, Facilities and Equipment of Highest Order.

Washington.—Southern colleges since 1900 have made a remarkable advancement not only in entrance requirements, but in libraries, laboratories, buildings and equipment, according to a statement of the bureau of education. Miss Elizabeth Avery Coulton, secretary of the Southern Association of Colored Women, who reported on conditions, declared that in 1900 only three southern colleges had standard requirements for entrance, while this year 160 institutions had adopted such standards.

Miss Coulton attributed the improvement to various philanthropic organizations which co-operated to better the educational system in the south. With the betterment in entrance requirements, she declared, had come a decided increase also in the amount of college work represented by the degree, while in the personnel of the faculties marked improvements were shown.

FOR THE NECK AND SHOULDERS

A Free Prescription That Instantly Obliterates Blemishes, Tan, Freckles And the Marks Left by High Collars.

The Dutch neck and the evening gown too often expose the discolored and blemished necks of women to the effects of tan and freckles. It is easy to overcome these conditions and make the neck beautiful and white and soft and smooth—no matter how old, in other words, every blemish and mark the low neck as attractive as the face. This preparation can be used on the neck and shoulders and face and it is marvelously effective to beautify the hands and arms.

If you want to try it, go to your drugist and get a one-ounce bottle of Kulu's Compound. Pour the entire contents into a two-ounce bottle, and quarter ounce with hazel, then fill with water. Prepare this at your own home. The application will delight you. It is deliciously cool and soothing and it is not affected by perspiration. It will not rub off.

If you put it on one hand only, or on one side of the neck and note the difference, you will see the wonderful change it makes instantly. The results are immediate and continued use of this preparation will keep your skin as soft and smooth as a child's.

FELLOW DEMOCRATS:

In announcing my candidacy for City Auditor and soliciting your support, I want to assure you that my many years of service as train dispatcher and accountant for the Baltimore and Ohio railroad has well equipped me to serve your best interests. As this is my first effort for recognition by the party in a life-long service in its ranks and that my opponent has twice been elected to this office, besides having served a year of his predecessor's time, and is now seeking a THIRD elective term, I feel that asking for this honor is within reason and earnestly urge that I be given your support, for which I shall ever be grateful.

Yours in Democracy,
JOSEPH D. NEWHAM.

THE HISTORIC AND FAMOUS "GENERAL"

Standing in the Union depot shed at Chattanooga, an old locomotive attracts the attention of all passengers and tourists that travel over the lines of the Nashville & Chattanooga railroad. It is being preserved by that road as a memorial to American valor, and is known as "The General." On the morning of April 12, 1862, this engine was captured by a company of Federal soldiers, in disguise, their purpose being to use it in burning the bridges of the Western & Atlantic railway between Big Shanty, Ga., and Chattanooga. The train that the engine was hauling was in command of Capt. W. A. Fuller of Atlanta, and had stopped at Big Shanty for breakfast. While Capt. Fuller and his crew were at breakfast the engine was uncoupled from the train and headed toward Chattanooga. Pursuit was immediately organized on a hand-car, and after a chase of ninety miles the party abandoned the engine and took to the woods. They were captured, however, and carried to Atlanta, where seven of his companions, were executed; eight were confined in prison but escaped, while six were paroled later. This expedition is known as the "Andrews Raid" and its purpose was to destroy the communications of the Confederate army with its base of supplies. James J. Andrews, the leader of this raid, was a citizen of Flemingsburg, Ky. A reunion of the survivors of the Andrews raid was held in Chattanooga in 1908. The next reunion of these survivors will be held during the 47th national encampment of the G. A. R. at Chattanooga in September.

DECISION WILL COME IN BURKE CASE THURSDAY

After concluding testimony of various witnesses for the defense and arguments of counsel, the civil service commission hearing charges preferred against Patrolman C. O. Burke by Police Chief Sheridan, late Monday afternoon adjourned with the announcement that a finding will be announced at 9 o'clock on Thursday morning.

There was nothing new in the testimony introduced during the course of the afternoon session. It was practically a recital of facts brought out during former hearings. Attorneys for Burke based their arguments chiefly on the point that there was no proof that the suspended patrolman had taken a drink of intoxicating liquor on duty on the date charged, nor that he disobeyed an officer in authority on May 6, as charged. Counsel for Burke urged that even in event that he had been guilty of both offenses charged, though they might have been violations of the rules promulgated for the department by Safety Director Collier, yet they were in accord with custom that has been observed both by officials and patrolmen.

Attorney A. A. Stasel, acting as counsel for Safety Director Collier, contended that Burke's guilt had been completely established and that by disobeying Captain Swank and by drinking while on duty the patrolman had violated rules governing the department.

BETTER ROADS

And Bigger Loads—State and Nation Join in Making Monster Exhibit at Fair.

Bad roads cost more than good roads. Within the next ten years the state and nation will spend one hundred million dollars for road building in Ohio. This money must be spent in such way as to give value received for every cent. Road construction is the one big task before the state. Every one must help pay and use the public highway. Hon. James R. Markler, State Highway Commissioner, and federal officers, have been given one large building at the Ohio State Fair for good road demonstration and instruction. The latest improved machinery, material, methods, manufacture and means of good road construction will be one of the strong features of the Fair. Ohio's great Exposition will be educational in all respects. Exhibit space is all taken and paid for. A record-breaker is ahead. Advertisement.

This new move promised to delay matters considerably.

PHYSICIAN GIVES BOND TO APPEAR

DR. LEGGE REPORTS TO MAGISTRATE HORTON LATE TUESDAY EVENING.

Hearing For Next Monday Morning at 9 O'clock—Attorneys Make Statement For Dr. Legge.

Late Tuesday afternoon Dr. Cary F. Legge appeared in Magistrate G. W. Horton's court to answer to the charge of performing an illegal operation on 18-year-old Helen McAndrews, of Columbus, whose death was a consequence of the alleged operation, according to the finding of Coroner W. E. Wiyarch, Monday.

Dr. Legge appeared in company with Attorney H. C. Ashcraft, whom he had retained as counsel, with Attorneys J. R. Fitzgibbon and A. A. Stasel. The affidavit against Dr. Legge was sworn to by Mrs. Annabel McAndrews, mother of the dead girl, Tuesday forenoon. When the accused physician's counsel learned of the action the magistrate was notified that Dr. Legge would appear voluntarily as soon as he returned from answering a professional call.

At 5 o'clock he appeared. The affidavit was read to him by Magistrate Horton, in which Mrs. McAndrews charged that Dr. Legge performed a criminal operation on her daughter which resulted in the girl's death Aug. 6, in the Newark sanitarium.

Dr. Legge immediately gave bond for his appearance Monday morning at nine o'clock for the preliminary hearing. The bond, fixed at $1000, was furnished by the accused physician and his wife, jointly.

After a conference with co-counsel, Attorney H. C. Ashcraft said Wednesday:

"We have not yet determined just what course we shall pursue Monday at the preliminary hearing, but we are entirely satisfied that Dr. Legge is absolutely guiltless of any crime and we will be able to prove it when the case comes to trial, beyond any question."

The arrest comes as a distinct shock to those not familiar with the investigation which has followed the death of Miss McAndrews. It is a direct outcome of the inquest held Monday in the court house behind closed doors, in which Coroner W. E. Wiyarch and Deputy Coroner W. J. Jackson examined a number of physicians who were said to have been called into conference following the alleged operation.

County Prosecutor J. Howard Jones, at the request of Mrs. McAndrews, mother of the dead girl, agreed to represent her in the preliminary hearing which probably will be held early next week.

The prosecutor intimated Tuesday that further developments may involve another local physician and surgeon and possibly a third party. Names were withheld, however.

Dr. Legge declined to make any statements, leaving the whole matter to his counsel.

For eighteen years Dr. Legge has been practicing medicine and surgery in Newark. He is a graduate of Starling Ohio Medical college and always bore a high personal and professional reputation in the community.

In the affidavit filed by Mrs. McAndrews, it is charged that the operation was performed by Dr. Legge on July 29, that it was not necessary to preserve the life of the young woman, nor having been advised by two physicians. These two provisions are the only ones under which such an operation is legalized.

The inquest conducted by Coroner Wiyarch and his deputy was a lengthy affair, occupying the greater part of Monday afternoon. In the course of that time several physicians testified to having been called in to examine Miss McAndrews following the serious turn taken after the alleged operation.

In substance the finding of the coroner was that Miss McAndrews' death was occasioned by peritonitis, or, in other words, a septic and inflamed condition of the membrane of the bowels. This in turn was caused by inflammation which was traced to the operation directly, according to the coroner's finding.

Through information brought out in the official investigation of the affair, following the death of Miss McAndrews, it was learned that she came to Newark from Columbus on July 28, and stopped with a friend, Mrs. Nellie Conley, 120 South Fourth street.

It is said that Miss McAndrews called upon a local physician, other than Dr. Legge, and that later she called upon the latter.

Subsequent to the alleged operation, when Miss McAndrews' condition became more serious, it is said other physicians were called in with the hope that her life might be saved. It is said that each of these physicians refused to act.

NEARLY 200 ARE ENROLLED FOR REINDEER ORDER

E. B. Huffman, state organizer of the Order of Reindeer, is enthusiastic over the rapid progress being made in securing desirable charter members for the lodge which soon will be instituted here. The death and disability insurance feature is proving a valuable factor in building up the list of charter membership applications, which now number close to 200.

The Order of Reindeer is perhaps the most flourishing of the younger social and fraternal orders. Its ritual is said to be extremely beautiful. An important feature of the order's business now being acted upon by the various local lodges is the establishment of a home for indigent members and the widows and orphans of members.

Mr. Huffman is particularly well pleased with the high class of membership he has been able to enlist in Newark and predicts a big opening here. In addition to life, death and disability insurance, members are allowed the free service of the lodge physician for themselves and their families. It is said the insurance is the cheapest reliable protection offered, besides giving the fraternal feature with its valuable assets in business and society. adv.
